

NWP Board of Directors Holds First Meeting of 2002

The board of directors of the National Writing Project gathered in Berkeley, California, on Saturday, June 22, 2002. The board typically meets as a group twice a year and then communicates with NWP leadership on an individual basis throughout the year. The first of these meetings is held in Berkeley each June, and a second meeting is convened on the East Coast in December.

Board members include chair Dan Boggan, Jr. (senior vice president, National Collegiate Athletic Association), Michele Drake (public relations manager, Agilent Media Communications, Agilent Technologies, Inc.), Ricardo Fernández (president, Lehman College, City University of New York), Don Gallehr (director, Northern Virginia Writing Project, George Mason University), James Gray (NWP founder), George Haley (partner, Pillsbury Winthrop LLP), Augusta Souza Kappner (president, Bank Street College of Education), Donald McQuade (vice chancellor, University Relations, University of California, Berkeley),

Board members attending June's NWP board meeting included (from left) Richard Sterling, Denise Patmon, Augusta Souza Kappner, David Meyerowitz, Michele Drake, chair Dan Boggan Jr., Vanessa Whang, George Haley, James Gray, and William Russell.

David Meyerowitz (president and CEO, Strategic Capital Corporation), Denise Patmon (co-director, Boston Writing Project, University of Massachusetts, Boston), William Russell (president, William Russell & Associates, Consultants in Education), Richard Sterling

(executive director, NWP), and Vanessa Whang (director, Presenting and Multidisciplinary Projects, National Endowment for the Arts). NWP co-directors attending the June meeting included Judy Buchanan, Elyse Eidman-Aadahl, Michel Mathis, and Mary Ann Smith.